The latest edition of The Troutdale Champion is here! Just click on the image to the right and you'll read about everything that's going on in your community including:

- the county's safety improvements project for 257th Dr.
- an introduction to our new police chief
- Troutdale Recreation's winter programs
- a look at Springdale Job Corps
- recycling tips for holiday string lights

... and much, much more!

The Champion was the only newspaper published in Multnomah County, outside of Portland, during the years 1893-1896. Today, it is solely the newsletter of the City of Troutdale.

The Champion is published bi-monthly and is distributed by mail to all residents of the City. You can access color versions of the paper below and in our online archive.

Excerpts from The Troutdale Champion are included in various web pages in this site and on our social media channels.
